DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on Jun. 14, 2007 has been entered.
2. Claim 4 has been canceled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-3, 5-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heinonen et al. (6816719) in view of Klindworth et al. (6,771,701).

Regarding claims 1, 11-12, 14, and 17, Heinonen discloses a method and system for making wireless terminal profile information accessible to net work, comprising:

a first internet protocol interface configured to receive an incoming cell phone signal generated by the first mobile station, and to transmit said phone signal to the Internet (see fig.1, a first internet protocol interface ISP, first mobile station 12, Internet

Art Unit: 2617

44); and a second internet protocol interface configured to receive said phone signal sent through the internet by said first internet protocol interface and to transmit said phone signal to the second mobile station, such that users of the first and second mobile stations can engage in a conversation where said phone signals are communicated over substantial distances through the internet (see fig.1, Internet 44, a second internet protocol interface ISP, second mobile station 22), except for the first and second internet protocol interfaces each maintain an echo canceller. However, Klindworth discloses an echo canceller comprising the first and second internet protocol interfaces each maintain an echo canceller/equalizer to correct distortions in said phone signal caused by travel of said phone signal through free air, server delays and internet delays (see figs2-3, echo canceller 30, fig.11, col.1, lines 39-45, col.9, lines 9-15). Thus, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the Klindworth's echo canceller in Heinonen's invention in order to remove acoustical and electrical echoes that occur due to reflections of in signal to improve the quality of telecommunications system.

Regarding claims 2-3, these features are inherent and use to recognize the calling party and to locate the called party in telecommunication system (see col.1, lines 41-58).

Regarding claims 5 and 10, Heinonen's system is a digital system, therefor, it inherent that Heinonen's system including the A/D or D/A converter (see col.1, lines 41-58).

Regarding claims 6-7, 13, and 15-16, Heinonen's system is a 15 digit unique code that is used to identify GSM/DCS/PCS phone to a GSM/DCS/PCS network (see col.1, lines 41-58). Thus, Heinonen's system comprised of a internet protocol converter module configured to embed said phone signal into a packetized digital data stream for transmission through the internet and further comprised of a internet protocol de-converter module configured to remove said phone signal from said packetized digital data stream.

Regarding claims 8-9, Heinonen's system further comprising said second internet protocol interface is further comprised of a second software controller module configured to process address information of the second mobile station provided by the user of the first mobile station (see fig.1, file server).
